Mrs. Brann/Mrs. Hannon

November 14, 2016

It is hard to believe that Thanksgiving is next week! Since we only come to school 2 days next week, we will not be sending home Tuesday folders or Tuesday comment sheets. If there are things from the office to go home, they will be stapled together and put inside your child's backpack on Tuesday.

Stop Hunger Now! Is this week at FHBC (the church across the street). This is a great way to have your child help feed hungry children around the world. If you have not participated in this before, I highly recommend it! Even the youngest children can participate.

December Holidays

Please take a minute to email me (lbrann@wcpss.net) and let me know what holidays your family celebrates in December. Also, if you would be willing to come in and share things about the holiday(s) you celebrate, please let me know.

Happy Thanksgiving!

We are thankful that we have the opportunity to teach your children daily. Enjoy this Thanksgiving spending time with those you love and creating memories that will last forever!
