Mrs. Brann/Mrs. Coakley

March 13, 2017

We started our new math unit on Monday! We are jumping into the world of addition. We will be using lots of manipulatives and drawing lots of pictures to help us master this concept. By the end of the unit, student should also be able to write numbers 1-20 correctly and look at 2 numbers and tell which is more/less.

We will finish our weather unit this week and take our post assessment.

In writing, we are working on information writing. We are reading nonfiction books and discussing how the text features help the reader.
